This was one of the first all-natural, essential oil perfumes I tried because the company is local to me. And though it initially only launched regionally, Ambre Blends quickly rose to national acclaim.

Ambre Blends come in three delicate, all natural scents meant to compliment one's own natural chemistry, to produce a unique individual aroma. The custom blending of ambre oil, the key ingredient, with other essential natural oils, produces lasting unique personal fragrances.

The three blends:

Ambre essence is the original Ambre custom blend. It carries a clean, euphoric and sensual aroma.

Invoke essence (my favorite) builds upon ambre essence by adding a stimulating blend of pure jasmine, neroli, sandalwood and a hint of rose. The essence invokes the scent of spring blooms kissed by the sun.

Solace essence infuses the ambre essence with a sensuous vanilla blend, interwoven with a rare special ingredient. This essence was created for the sole purpose of comfort and attraction.
